

director's biography

evie litwok was born and raised in New York City. Her first year of college was at Carnegie Mellon, where she majored as a pianist.

From there, she earned graduate degrees in psychology, took a loooooong stint in the Women's Movement and landed on Wall Street, managing money.

Ultimately, it was her passion for the 5 Maltese dogs she lived with, that led her to write a book from the perspective of the "Matriarch Maltese", named Tippy. The book was followed by the making of her first feature movie, The Tippy Story (2005).
